Named one of the most FUN SMALL TOWNS in America

The lively city of Buena Park is situated just 5 miles from Disneyland®, 10 miles from white sandy beaches, 20 miles from Los Angeles and a million miles away from your everyday life!

What was once an agricultural area overflowing with dairy farms, orange groves and berry fields, has since grown to become the entertainment capital of Southern California. The charming town is home to the lovable Snoopy, over 30 exhilarating rides and shows at Knott's Berry Farm, California beach-themed waterpark, exceptional cuisines, several interactive dinner shows and a California Welcome Center.

The smell of fresh baked funnel cakes, the taste of famous fried chicken, the rush of adrenaline as you soar 300 feet in the air, the sight of knights battling and the sounds of laughter are all waiting for you in Buena Park. Come and experience for yourself why Buena Park attracts millions of visitors each year. With its family-friendly environment and thrilling attractions, you don't have to look for it because fun finds you!

FUN & FREE Things to Do in The OC

A trip to Orange County doesn't have to break the bank. There's plenty to do and see in The OC that doesn't cost a dime! The California Welcome Center should be your first stop if you need help planning your OC adventure. Centrally located in Buena Park, the center's friendly staff can get you free brochures on all California attractions, directions, discounts, maps and more – everything you need to maximize your time and minimize your spending.

For a truly Southern California experience, start your day at the beach. Huntington Beach is a sun-lover's wonderland with miles of soft sand, volleyball nets, fire pits and surfers galore. Bring your sunscreen, sunglasses and snacks and you are in for a day of relaxation. The Orange County coast is also a great place to explore tide pools. Check the low tide schedule and then head to Heisler Park Reserve or Treasure Island Beach, both in the town of Laguna Beach, to see tons of underwater creatures like sea anemones, sea urchins and crabs. Follow it up with a visit to the Pacific Marine Mammal Center where you can learn how this organization rehabilitates and releases injured and sick sea animals.

Travel back in time and take advantage of the many historic buildings and museums in Buena Park that offer free tours like the Whitaker-Jaynes House, the Bacon House and the Stage Shop Hotel – currently home to a California Welcome Center.

If you want to go even farther back in time, the Clark Interpretive Center in Ralph Clark Regional Park houses tons of ice age fossils including a 9-million-year-old baleen whale skeleton. The park also has picnic tables, walking paths and three dinosaur-themed playgrounds.

American history is featured at Knott's Independence Hall – an exact replica of the Philadelphia landmark – where you can hear an audio retelling of the dramatic debate that led to the drafting of the Declaration of Independence and the creation of the United States of America. Admission is free and you can even get a free hour of parking in the Knott's MarketPlace Parking Lot.

Breathe in the (free) fresh air at one of the area's many parks as you take in the varied and beautiful landscape of Orange County. Laguna Canyon Wilderness Park in Laguna Beach will give you scenic coastal views and 42 miles of hiking trails. Head to the park's Nix Nature Center to learn about the Native American population that once called this area their home. If you are bringing kids with you, ask a ranger for the scavenger hunt for Mary's Trail – a half-mile loop near the center.

You may be surprised to find the majestic rock formations of Red Rock Canyon in Whiting Ranch Wilderness Park. The 4-mile roundtrip hike through the sandstone canyon that was once under water rewards you with scenic vistas and plenty of wildlife along the way. For a different view, explore Southern California's largest redwood grove at Carbon Canyon Regional Park. Take the mile-long nature trail to see the majestic trees, then play on the playground or catch some fish in the park's four-acre lake.

Continue your outdoor education at the Fullerton Arboretum, the county's largest botanical garden. Kids (and kids at heart) are encouraged to touch and explore at the Sniff n' Seek Garden and the Weird and Wonderful Do-Touch Garden. If learning about the latest trends in health and nutrition are more your speed, then sign up for a free 90-minute tour of the Nutrilite

Experience Center in Buena Park. Here you can meet the scientists behind the Nutrilite brand and ask questions about supplements and the benefits of phytonutrients.

Got some city kids in your crew? Take them to the Centennial Farm at the OC Fair and Event Center in Costa Mesa. This three-acre working farm was designed to teach youth about agriculture and its importance in daily life. Visit the fruit and vegetable gardens, then meet the pigs, chickens, cattle and goats that make their homes there.

Another great stop for families is the Kids Rock Playground at Orange Country Great Park in Irvine. This park teaches about the water cycle and offers plenty of climbing opportunities and even some water misters which are much needed on a hot day. Afterwards, swing by the park's Farm + Food Lab to discover some innovative gardening and composting ideas.

What's New in Buena Park

Porto's Bakery & Cafe

Voted Yelp's #1 Restaurant in the Country, Porto's Cuban Bakery serves up delectable pastries and cakes, savory sandwiches, specialty beverages and their famous potato balls. The family-owned business still uses many of the original recipes that they brought with them from Cuba in 1963. The Buena Park location is one of just four locations and the only one in Orange County.

The Source

The 450,000 square foot urban center features retail, 4-D luxury theater and international dining options including authentic Mexican fare at La Huasteca and Orange County's best ramen house, Yoshiharu.

Knott's Soak City

Waterpark Expansion

Orange County's only waterpark now features seven new waterslides, shaded cabanas and delicious new dining options. Visitors can race down four side-by-side tubes, step inside an Aqua-Launch chamber and take a 60-foot plummet as the floor falls out beneath riders feet or twist and turn down a six person inner tube. The new attractions join over 17 other slides, wave pool and lazy river. The waterpark is open seasonally from May through September.

Sol Spin

at Knott's Berry Farm

The thrilling new attraction takes brave visitors on a topsyturvy ride over 6 stories high while rotating in every direction. Deriving its name from the Spanish word for sun, the ride is a burst of color and movement that complements the already energetic Fiesta Village in Knott's Berry Farm.

Hampton Inn & Suites

The 102-room Hampton Inn & Suites is a four story hotel conveniently located off the 5 freeway in Buena Park. The property includes an outdoor pool and spa, meeting space, modern rooms, state-of-the-art fitness center and breakfast area.

Teatro Martini

Southern California's hottest new dinner show is an edgy, interactive experience. This one-of-a-kind cabaret merges an upscale 5-course meal with gut busting comedy acts, world-class musical performances, dazzling acrobatics and stunning magical acts.

Coming Soon

Butterfly Palladium

Opening in 2019, visitors will be immersed in the sights and sounds of a tropical rainforest. The 17,000-square-foot lush atrium will feature soothing waterfalls, indigenous Costa Rican plants and wall-to-wall glass panels letting in natural light. The interactive sanctuary will be home to over 8,000 butterflies, dozens of hummingbirds and a honeybee exhibit. As guests explore the rainforest, butterflies will land on a friendly shoulder or outstretched finger.

Visitors to the Palladium will also enjoy one-of-a-kind experiences like the World's Largest Jellyfish Aquarium with an up close look at the majestic sea creatures. Learn all about the life of a butterfly as they appear to pop right out of the screen at the 3-D theater.

Buena Park Attractions

Theme Park

Knott's Berry Farm

With dozens of rides, shows and attractions in four themed areas, there's something for everyone at Knott's Berry Farm! Take a journey through the Wild West at Knott's Ghost Town where you'll meet its many residents, take a stage-coach ride, pan for gold or brave the Timber Mountain Log Ride. For those thrill seekers, take on the West Coast's longest, tallest and fastest wooden rollercoaster, Ghost Rider; launch 83 miles-per-hour on Xcelerator or ride Silver Bullet, named "One of the Best Steel Coasters." In Camp Snoopy, hang out with the Peanuts Gang and ride 14 pint sized attractions just for kids. And kids of all ages can sing along to camp songs, explore hidden caves or pilot their own airplane.

Fun is always in season at Knott's with year-round festivals and events. Indulge in over 100 different boysenberry dishes, enjoy live entertainment and interactive exhibits during the 23-day Boysenberry Festival in April. From the end of September through October, the World's Largest Halloween event, Knott's Scary Farm opens the crypts to 1,000 monsters and over a dozen terrifying mazes. During the day, kids can trick-or-treat, compete in a costume contest and meet their favorite Peanuts characters at Knott's Spooky Farm. As the fog fades and the holidays roll in, the theme park transforms to Knott's Merry Farm from November through December. The holiday celebration features the ice skating spectacular, "Snoopy on Ice," photos with Santa, delicious holiday food and nightly snow fall.

Knott's Soak City

Orange County's largest waterpark offers 13 beach-themed acres designed for thrill seekers of all ages. Speed fans can race head-to-head on Banzai Falls or drop 63 feet straight down on Old Man Falls. At Shore Break and the Wedge, experience one of 6 new slides including the six-person raft ride where families can navigate the twist, turns and a surprise drop. For those body surfers, Tidal Wave Bay is the place to hang ten, while the whole family will love relaxing on one of the World's Longest Waterpark Lazy Rivers. Even kids have their own water wonderland at the Gremmie Lagoon and three-story, interactive Beach House. The waterpark is open seasonally from May through September.

Dinner Shows

Pirate's Dinner Adventure

Guests of the show are entertained with an astonishing display of special effects, aerial artistry, swashbuckling swordplay and dynamic duels. Acclaimed as the “World’s Most Interactive Dinner Show,” the excitement takes place on board a replica 18th century Spanish ship that sits in a 250,000-gallon indoor lagoon. While the action takes place, visitors will feast on a three-course meal including a fresh garden salad or a savory veggie soup, quarter chicken and roasted shrimp skewer with a side of buttery mashed potatoes with seasonal veggies and for dessert, a delicious fudge brownie with vanilla ice cream. The show runs seven days a week. In October the dinner show transforms to Vampirate’s, a Halloween experience that features a costume contest. All December long evil Pirate’s capture Santa Claus and it’s up to you to help save the season during the holiday show, Pirate’s Take Christmas.

Medieval Times Dinner & Tournament

Named “Best Tourist Attraction” by OC Weekly, visitors to the castle are transported back in time to an age of chivalry during the two-hour medieval tournament. Guests can wander the corridors before the show and discover the indoor stables, elaborately decorated Hall of Arms and lush outdoor garden. Cheer on your favorite knight as they compete in authentic jousting tournaments, hand-to-hand sword fights and win the heart of the princess with games of skill. During the tournament, feast like a king on a three-course meal with roasted chicken, tomato bisque soup, herb-basted potato, garlic bread, sweet buttered corn and a decadent dessert. The show runs seven days a week.

Teatro Martini

Visitors (18+) are invited to Orange County’s hottest new dinner show. The two-hour vaudeville variety act follows a group of misfit performers looking to make a name for themselves on the big stage. Visitors will be entertained with gut-busting comedy acts, world-class musical performances, dazzling acrobatics and stunning magical acts. During the show, indulge in an upscale, 5-course meal and try one of their signature cocktails from their master mixologists. Teatro Martini is offered Friday thru Sunday.

Big Air Trampoline Park

Jump off the walls at Big Air Trampoline Park located inside the Buena Park Mall. Test your skills on the rock climbing wall; throw down on the slam dunk court; dip, duck, dive and dodge on the trampoline dodgeball court; flip into thousands of foam cubes on The Launch Pad; saddle-up for a ride on the mechanical bull; or take on your friends with gladiator combat sticks on the balance beam! And even though they're big, they have plenty of fun for smaller guests, too, at Li'l Air, which includes fun-size versions of their most popular attractions!

John's Incredible Pizza

The ultimate combination of arcade games and an all-you-can-eat buffet, John's Incredible Pizza is 50,000-square-feet of amusement rides, ticket-dispensing games and sensory entertainment. Favorites include twenty different kinds of pizzas, pastas with homemade sauces, fresh salad bar, soups and made-from-scratch desserts.

Knott's Independence Hall

Located across the street from Knott's Berry Farm, this remarkable building is an exact brick-by-brick replica of the original Independence Hall in Philadelphia but without the ticket fee and long wait in line. The Hall is packed with free exhibits, a replica Liberty Bell, presidential artifacts and a re-creation of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Open daily from 10am to 4pm.

History & Culture

Clark Interpretive Center

Orange County wasn't always populated with nice, friendly people. The original residents were a bit more wild. Mammoths, ring-tailed cats, giant ground sloths and a unique type of ancient llama lived in the area. Located in Ralph Clark Regional Park, the nationally recognized Interpretive Center provides an educational view of prehistoric Orange County through interactive exhibits, programs and guided tours. Among the fossils on display is a 9-million-year-old baleen whale skeleton - it is reputed to be one of the only complete ice age whale fossils in existence. Visitors can also watch scientists and volunteers excavate and prepare fossil specimens for study and educational exhibits. Admission is FREE!

Buena Park Historic District

Travel back in time by touring the city's Historic District featuring seven preserved buildings from the 1800's. The Whitaker-Jaynes House serves as the city's local history museum; the Bacon House, is one of the oldest surviving structures; the Tice House, is now a charming café and the Stage Stop Hotel, currently home to Orange County's only California Welcome Center.

Nutriline Experience Center

Medical professionals, pro-athletes and visitors from all over the world come to the center to learn about the latest trends in health and nutrition. You can do the same on one of their informative, twice-daily FREE tours. The 90 minute tour gives visitors the opportunity to learn about the company's history, their agricultural growing process, how scientists develop their vitamins and how they are manufactured. Reservations are a must!

A LAZY DAY IN THE SUN

THE DRAKE FAMILY

Southern California is at the top of the list of family vacation destinations as it has tons to offer both parents and kids. When planning our latest SoCal trip with my husband and three kids, we decided to head to Buena Park and see what the city had to offer. More than just nearby Disneyland®, Buena Park is full of interactive dinner adventures, parks with real dinosaur bones and hotels that are perfect to call your family's home away from home. We loved our family vacation here and can't wait to go back soon!

Knott's Berry Farm

Both my husband and I have fond memories of visiting Knott's Berry Farm as children, but it's a whole different adventure seeing the park through our kids' eyes. With Snoopy ears on, our kids could have spent days at Camp Snoopy – in fact, they probably rode Woodstock's Airmail at least eight times. And – don't forget to check out the entertainment schedule when you arrive. One of the highlights of our visit was the Wild West Stunt Show.

Medieval Times Dinner & Tournament

We received the royal treatment from the minute we entered the castle at Medieval Times. We were crowned by the King's Court and immediately became part of the show. The kids were mesmerized by the knights and horses. We all really got involved in cheering for our yellow knight during the jousting tournament, which was my favorite part. It was fun to eat dinner with our hands and the kids got to take a picture with our knight after the show.

VACATION ALBUM

Pirate's Dinner Adventure

The show took audience participation to a whole new level as soon as we arrived! We joined the blue team, waving our cups and cheering on our pirate throughout the show. The highlight was when my boys were called up on stage to get sworn in as pirates. Their excitement was immeasurable and they could not stop talking about the show for weeks after. It was so fun to watch their expressions.

Clark Regional Park

If you have a budding paleontologist like we do, then definitely stop by Clark Regional Park for the afternoon. The park is home to Clark Interpretative Center where they have dinosaur exhibits, fossils to examine and even a 9-million-year-old whale skeleton. After, take a walk through the park's lovely grounds, play on one of the three dino-themed playgrounds and feed the ducks.

Holiday Inn Hotel - Near Knott's

Convenience is key when travelling with kids and the Holiday Inn Buena Park offers everything that parents (and kids) could want. Just down the street from all the Buena Park action, the Holiday Inn offers easy freeway access that is great when you are exploring other parts of the OC. A large heated pool and complimentary shuttles to Knott's Berry Farm and Disneyland® make the Holiday Inn a great home base for families. Plus, kids eat free with a paying adult at the hotel's on-site restaurant.

TAKING A STROLL AT KNOTT'S

YOUR SHOPPING GUIDE TO... California Fashion

Whether you are looking to grab the trendiest of Southern California fashion or a few souvenirs, Buena Park and Orange County have tons of shopping options for you.

Luxury shopping at its finest, South Coast Plaza (20 miles from Buena Park) features over 250 department stores and upscale boutiques. Shoppers will enjoy top-of-the-line amenities including valet parking, VIP access lounge, carousel rides and concierge services.

Outdoor shopping under the California sun is the name of the game at Fashion Island and the Irvine Spectrum Center (25 miles from Buena Park). They offer department stores, boutique shopping and eateries for every taste and budget. Orange County's only outlet center, The Outlets of Orange (10 miles from Buena Park) offers hours of shopping delight where bargain hunters can find incredible discounts in more than 120 outlet and retail stores.

Vintage shoppers will love the quaint feel at Old Towne Orange (12 miles from Buena Park). This shopping district is centered around the city's original plaza and many of the buildings are still in existence today. Take in the history and check out the many antique and specialty retail stores.

You don't have to wander too far to get some shopping time as Buena Park has plenty of options for those wanting to shop local. California Marketplace, just outside the theme park offers unique souvenirs, one-of-a-kind boutiques, snoopy headquarters and the largest selection of Knott's signature jams and jellies. Just up the road is Buena Park Downtown, an enclosed shopping mall with budget-friendly stores like DSW Shoe Warehouse, T.J. Maxx and Kohl's.

YOUR BEACH GUIDE TO...

Sun, Sand & Sightseeing

There's nothing more California than packing up the towels, snacks and sunscreen and heading out on a road trip to the coast! All you have to do is roll down the windows, breathe in the sea air and follow Beach Boulevard from Buena Park to these coastal communities that offer sun and sand for as far as the eye can see.

Huntington Beach

10 miles away

A straight shot down Beach Boulevard takes you right to Huntington Beach and its famous pier. This wide, sandy beach has been long-touted as one of the best beaches in America. Sunbathe and watch surfers, check out the World's Largest Surfboard, ride bikes along the boardwalk or roast marshmallows over a bonfire.

Newport Beach

Head south and you will find the largest recreational harbor on the West Coast, Newport Beach. Surfers will enjoy the 10 miles of sandy beach while families flock to the sheltered waters of Marina Park. Be sure to leave time to ride the Ferris wheel, enjoy vintage arcade games and devour the famous Balboa Bar at the Balboa Fun Zone.

Crystal Cove

The beach includes seven separate coves along 3 miles. While there, stop by the popular Beachcomber Café. Every evening at 5pm since the 1930's, a bugle is sounded and the "martini flag" is raised to signal the end of a work day. Located on the beach, the restaurant offers outdoor patio seating for watching spectacular sunsets.

Laguna Beach

Finish up your coastal road trip in the picturesque town of Laguna Beach. The resort area provides a year-round retreat for art lovers, nature enthusiasts and snorkeling adventurers at Shaw's Cove. Seven miles of sand includes the Heisler Park Reserve and Treasure Island Beach, both great spots to explore the tide pools.

A person is walking on a beach at sunset. The sky is a mix of blue, purple, and orange, with a large wave crashing in the background. The person's reflection is visible in the water.

Porto's Bakery & Café

A LITTLE SLICE OF HEAVEN

Intoxicating aromas of specialty pastries and cakes fill the air in Buena Park as the highly anticipated, Porto's Bakery & Café has settled into their fourth and only Orange County location.

The world-famous café attracts millions of visitors a year from around the world who not only come for their decadent pastries, freshly baked breads, authentic sandwiches and coffee creations but for their affordably priced menu items. But before opening Yelp's #1 Restaurant in the Country, the Porto family can trace their humble beginnings back to 1960 in Manzanillo, Cuba.

In order to provide for her family in Cuba, Rosa Porto launched a dangerous underground baking business to help support her three kids – Betty, Margarita and Raul Jr. The Porto family lived this way for a decade before they were finally approved to relocate to California with nothing more than the clothes on their backs and recipes in hand. With a dream for a better life, Rosa got straight to work and began baking her famous pastries from home with her kids. When their home could no longer accommodate the increased demand, they moved to a 300-square-foot bakery in Los Angeles. As word and popularity spread, they once again had to grow their bakery and opened the first official location over 40 years ago.

Rosa used her talents as a means of supporting her family and has turned Porto's into one of the most unique family-owned businesses in Southern California. Even though Rosa is retired, visitors can still enjoy her famous potato balls, guava cheese rolls, cakes, empanadas, meat pies and authentic Cubano sandwiches served with fried plantains. Though the restaurant has grown over the years, not much else has changed. The Porto family still welcomes every visitor like they are part of the family and puts the same love and passion into every dish like their mother did in her home kitchen.

CHEF'S SPOTLIGHT

Spencer Kim

Named one of OC's best chefs, Spencer Kim, owner of Spencer's Bistro, refined his culinary skills at Roy's and went on to open the Tommy Bahama restaurant in Laguna Beach before opening his own unassuming but over-the-top delicious restaurant closer to home. Read on to discover why you should swing by his Buena Park restaurant to see what's on his seasonal menu!

What made you decide to open Spencer's Bistro? When I started this career, I knew that's where I wanted to end up – to have my own restaurant. That way I could put my name on dishes and share what I know with everybody else.

How do you define your cuisine? I would say that the base cuisine is European, as that gives me a broad canvas to work off of. But then there will be hints here and there of Asian, South American or Indian influences. I try to sneak that in. The neighborhood around here is very diverse so I didn't want to do just traditional Italian in the hopes that it would capture a much more diverse group.

Why did you decide to go for fast casual style? When I opened my own restaurant, I wanted it to be more accessible to people, and one of the biggest things would be the cost aspect of it. Growing up, my parents had that influence on me – that good food should be affordable and enjoyed by everyone in a comfortable setting.

What menu item is the most "Instagrammable"? If I had to pick one dish I'd probably go with the Greek Grilled Chicken. People are always commenting that it's a beautiful dish.

What's your top cooking tip for the at-home cook? Have no fear. The reason why dishes come out the way they do at good restaurants is strictly because of repetition. The first time we learn to make a dish will be the hardest because we don't have it ingrained in us. But the more we practice the dish, the easier it becomes as it gives us the time to think about shortcuts or tricks.

What can we look forward to eating at Spencer's Bistro this year? There are a few dishes that come to mind. One is our salmon pesto pasta. I've been strictly using home-grown basil to make the pesto and when we run out, that's when I'll stop putting it on the menu. Every year we have people that are just waiting for my basil to grow out.

A vibrant water play area with colorful pipes and water spraying into a pool. The scene is set outdoors under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. In the foreground, a large, colorful water structure features purple, green, and red pipes. Water is spraying from various points, including a red pipe that pours water into a blue pool. The background shows a swimming pool with blue lounge chairs and palm trees. The overall atmosphere is bright and cheerful.
