Star Farmer

The 2014 Star Farmer has been raising and marketing purebred hogs and sheep. His love for agriculture began at a young, and has evolved into a young entrepreneur, partnering with his brother to own their own business. We are pleased to present Blake Campbell from the Waterford FFA Chapter in Ohio with the Star Farmer Award.

Star in Ag Placement

The Star in Ag Placement began her love for the dairy industry as a young 4-H member. While serving as an intern at a local farm, she acquired not only a passion for agriculture, but also the skill set needed to run a retail dairy farm. The 2014 Star in Ag Placement is Bailey Basiel from the Mattabeset FFA Chapter in the state of Connecticut.

Star in Agriscience

The Star in Agriscience became interested in the area of agriscience while completing a research project in his Honors Biology course. With an interest in plants, this individual was able to conduct experiments on the effects of geotropism within plant development and the effect of riparian buffers on stream quality. After much hardwork, we are pleased to present the Star in Agriscience to Johnathan Noss from the West Perry FFA Chapter in Pennsylvania
